

FLY A KITE

What?

We're going to fly kites on the National Mall! Rainbow-colored kites!

We want to fill the sky with color!

Why?

We want to remind lawmakers – and people in general – that the GBLT community is made up of people, not just issues. We're doing that by having a non-confrontational gathering. No speeches, no marches, no chants – just folks flying kites.

It will also be a great chance to meet other members of the GBLT community.

Most important, we're going to have fun!

Where & When?

We'll be at the National Mall in downtown DC – that's the area between the Washington Memorial and the Capitol Building – just look for the rainbow-colored kites.

We're planning on August 4, 2007, starting at 1:00 pm. (Alternate date for inclement weather will be announced on the LJ Community gbltkite)

Who?

Anyone interested in or friendly to the Gay, Bisexual, Lesbian, Transgender Community. You don't need to be GBLT to be involved!

Even if you can't attend, please join the community – we'd love to have your input!

For more information join the community gbltkite at <http://www.livejournal.com> or email gbltkite@gmail.com